KNOWING
by john woog johnson 2007-2012

When you know
All your worries are gone
Everything seems wonderful
When you know

So, on you go
You've never been so close
Found everything that ran away
When you know

Dawn is blazing Mountains waving
All of nature's rules are changing
Things will never be the way they've been

There are times
Lost and lonely times
Still you're never far away
Or far behind

And a word
In an old sad song
The meaning seems so strange
And then it's gone

Mornings pushed away by evening
Everything leads to repeating
Nothing can ever remain the same

Out walking
On a sunny afternoon
I remember when I last saw you
Walking there

And the sunrise
How I long for that sigh
I keep searching on through the night
And wonder why

Glorious waking, lightning flashing
Truth's not always for the asking
You're going to have to find your own way

I'll stop
Before I get too deep
I'm so tired I could weep
But tomorrow is another day
See you after I sleep
See you after I sleep
See you after I sleep
