Do you still miss me too*
by John Johnson

Verse:

1st voice:

When are you going to snap out of it
That's what my friends always say
You been walking around for months
Like a corps who's forgotten that he's dead
Do you still miss me too

It don't pay to love too strong
Cause it always comes back to wreak your mind
Hanging on to that feeling is impossible
Lord only knows how hard I've tried
Do you still miss me too

You caught me by surprise
And you caused an evolution in my mind
Now there's only wasted ruins
So alone, unobserved and left behind
Do you still miss me too

Bridge:

2nd voice:

It's so hard to feel, so hard to see
The embarrassment you've made of me
You flaunt me, haunt me, right in my face,
How does a man live with this kind of disgrace.
I can see the whole thing coming again,
I know where I've gone and know where I've been.
I'm pathetic and wasted and low to the ground
Hang in the corners and don't make a sound
Hope against hope that it just ain't this way
Praying for just one sunny day
If I can only endure down to the end
Maybe you'll start to love me again

Verse:

1st voice:

It's 3 o'clock in the morning
I haven't slept in days
Looking for a master plan but just can't see the way
Do you still miss me too

If you ever see her, don't tell the truth about me
Tell that I'm living like a slave that just broke free
Do you still miss me too
