Phony
by John Johnson

Verse:

You're the goofiest woman that I ever did see
I wish you would stay away from me
Don't care where you go or what you do
I'm only really happy far away from you

Chorus 1:

You're phony, phony, phony as a three-dollar bill
You're mean and lazy, you drive me crazy
You even make your mother ill
You're phony, phony, phony as a three-dollar bill

Verse:

You can take a sloth and drive him insane
You can take a lion and make him lose his mane
You can make a bunny want to go to war
You can change a lamb into a carnivore

Chorus 2:

You're phony, phony, phony as a three-dollar bill
You're cheap and slutty, you don't like nobody
You're looking for spirits to kill
You're phony, phony, phony as a three-dollar bill

Verse:

You don't care who you destroy
You'll do girls and you'll do boys
By now all your morals are gone
I'm not quite sure which planet you're from

Chorus 1 & 2:
